

Dear Sirs,

I am an Ham and it appears that very little research has gone into the Broadband over power lines (BPL) process that now is reducing the ability of regular AM radio users to hear even the most powerful stations. Please reconsider the allowance given to orgainzations for the use of BPL until such time that all the interference can be removed and not also adversely impact the established amateur radio freq. spectrum.

Blane Wilson K3LYE